Special Olympics Needs Your Support

Did you know that approximately 60 students from Appomattox County are eligible to participate in the Special Olympics. This is the world's largest program of sports training and competition for the mentally handicapped.

For the Special Olympic athlete his participation in the games is the result of numerous hours of training and preparation. No matter where the Special Olympian places in the contest, he does not lose. Every athlete gets a participation ribbon and certificate to display proudly along with any place ribbons he may win. Each Olympian is filled with the personal satisfaction gained by knowing he did his best.

There are many who would like to compete, but we need your help. That's why we are asking you to contribute to the 1979 Special Olympic Program in Area 12. Your contribution covers these things: participation in the Area and State games for Basketball, Track and Field, and Bowling; awards; registration; housing; food; postage; and the 1979 International Games Fund. There are no "salary" or "administrative" costs built into your contribution because Special Olympics is an all volunteer effort.

Appomattox County Special Olympics needs to raise approximately $1,000 more to cover the charges of our athletes to compete in the local and State events for Track and Field and Bowling. The cose is approximately $20 to "sponsor an athlete" for each event. In addition to this amount we also need to raise funds for the International Games (held every four years) to be held this August in New York. In the past three years Appomattox County has been the only county in our Area to totally support their students financially. Area 12 involves 8 counties and the city of Lynchburg. We hope you will help us to continue with our good record.

We would greatly appreciate a donation of any amount that a business, civic organization, church, youth group, or individual would like to make. Your support will provide rewarding and worthwhile experiences for the Special Education students in Appomattox County. Checks may be made payable to "Appomattox County Special Olympics" and sent to the coordinator of the Appomattox County Special Olympics Evelyn Ford, P. O. Box 894, Appomattox, Virginia. Feel free to call Evelyn if you have questions concerning the Special Olympics, 352-8690.

We would like to express our appreciation to the following businesses, civic organizations, church groups and individuals who have donated to the 1979 Special Olympic Fund.

Woodmen of the World; Amelia Dress Company; Virginia Fibre Corporation; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Billy Moore; Armstrong Furniture; J. E. Sears and Co., Inc.; Oakville Ruritans; Coleman and Sons; Webb's Tire Company, Inc.; State Farm Insurance Company; Scott Insurance Co.; Pamplin Charge United Methodist Men's Club; Our Lady of Peace Mission, Holy Cross Catholic Church; Appomattox Junior Woman's Club; Spout Spring Ruritan Club; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hudson; United Daughters of the Confederacy; Rocks Extension Homemakers Club; Spout Spring Homemakers Club; Pamplin Chapter of the Appomattox Association of Retired Persons; Miss Edith O'Brien

The Bible And Daily Living

By Dr. William L. Trimyer

DISCIPLINE WITHIN THE CHURCH
Lesson for March 18

Background Scriptures:
1 Cor. 5:9 to 6:8
II Cor. 2:5-10

"Is it not those inside the church whom you are to judge? God judges those outside. I Cor. 5:12b-13a.

An Ostrich Faith!

The Christian faith was never meant to operate in a vacuum. Jesus himself was no hermit. If anything, Jesus was a cosmopolitan man. He came face to face with the cultural crossroads where thieves steal, smut throwers spread smut, and killers kill.

Some Christians believe that to be a "successful" Christian they must avoid all contact with the "evil" world. Of course, there is no escape from the "rubbing shoulders" with the world. An "ostrich Christian" attempts to bury his or her head in the sand so as to avoid mixing with non-Christians.

Attempts to avoid "mixing" with the non-Christian world is mainly nonsense, according to Paul. In fact, it can lead to absurdity! Some persons refuse to eat at restaurants that serve alcoholic beverages, while they purchase groceries from a store which sells alcoholic beverages. Get the picture?

The flip side of this issue is to be so lax about mixing with the non-Christian world that a Christian loses his or her identity. Christians should reveal their uniqueness to the eyes of the non-church world.

Standards for Membership

Paul's complaint is with those in the church who are Christian in name only. He instructs Christians to refrain from "cavorting" with those whose immorality brings pain and dishonor to the church fellowship. In other words, some within the church may bear the name "brother" or "sister", but they are not living the right kind of life for a Christian.

Paul makes some sense here. There are some things that good servants of Christ must refrain from if they are to be true to their commitments. Good disciples practice compassion, non-discrimination, honesty in business and personal life. Good disciples likewise practice a morality that seeks the highest welfare of their neighbor or stranger.

The Christian faith does not demand a pious stance in life that makes one look like a "Mr. Do Goody" or a "Miss Goody Two Shoes"! Christians are those who acknowledge their humanity and seek to practice a Christian faith that confronts the "real" world with concern and honest efforts to transform. In other words, they seek to get involved with their world rather than looking for easy ways to escape from it.

But back to Paul again. Paul argues that some standard of judgement must be made against those within the fellowship who are tearing down rather than building up. It is easy to make judgements about the outside world, but to judge those within the church!

The early Christian community practiced discipline within the fellowship. When a member went "against the grain" he was disciplined by the church. The practice of discipline within the church has fallen to neglect in our times. We allow people to come and go, making no requirements of their moral behavior. It can be deadly.

Christians and the Courts

Paul rebuked the Corinthian Christians for washing their "dirty linen" in public. Paul strongly believed that Christians should settle their disputes among themselves rather than dragging their problems to the public courts. His concern was that Christians were losing out when they took other Christians to court.

Christians should be able to settle their disputes among themselves. Paul's idea is that we don't necessarily air our family quarrels out in public (although some do!), so neither should Christians seek outside opinions to settle their disputes.

Paul wrote in a time when the courts were ruled by pagan judges. Today, we are fortunate that many of our judges in the judicial system are Christians with an eye for fairness.

I know two brothers in Kentucky who have grudged each other over a land dispute for thirty years, and for thirty years neither one ever set foot in the other's home. One was a deacon in her church. One of the brothers is now dead. Their dispute was never settled. Their church never took them to task over the matter. As a result, the church is only half alive. Think about it!

Jordan News

The Ladies Club will meet on Saturday night, March 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mae Lambreth. All members are asked to attend.

Church business meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 20, at 8 p.m. at the Oakville School building.

On the fourth Sunday, March 25, beginning at 6 p.m. the Gospel Harmonettes will celebrate their 7th anniversary. Many of your favorite groups have been invited, so plan now to attend. This program will be held at the Appomattox County High School auditorium.

Anyone wishing to go to Georgia in May, please contact any member of the Gospel Harmonettes or call 352-8073 or 352-8951.

We are glad Mrs. Celia Abbitt has returned home from the hospital. Remember her and Mrs. Viola Austin and all the sick and shut-in in your prayers.

Take care of your tires.
At any speed, a tire failure can be hazardous. You have an obligation to yourself, your family and other drivers to prevent tire-failure accidents.
Be on the lookout for possible trouble — cuts, cracks, uneven wear, cupping and inflation problems. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles. Inspect them often; remove rocks, nails or glass that is jammed between tread grooves.
Most important, don't drive on tires you aren't sure of.
